LIMIT OF IMMIGRATION WILL BE TRANSPORTATION

HON. W. H. HANNA, PROVINCIAL SECRETARY OF ONTARIO, THINKS LIMIT OF IMMIGRATION INTO WEST WILL BE GOVERNED BY TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES IN NEXT TEN YEARS.

What is the limit of immigration into Western Canada for a given year?

The above pertinent question was asked this morning by the Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary for the province of Ontario, who is a guest at the King Edward Hotel, he answering the question himself. Mr. Hanna advanced the opinion that the year will come, and within the next ten, when the influx into western Canada will be governed by the limit of transportation.

"It is quite to be expected," said Mr. Hanna, "that in any year within the next ten years, that there will occur a combination of conditions that will result in a stampede. You westerners say that 100 years will see Canada a peopled country, but why do you say that?"

Mr. Hanna here pointed out the advance of the United States since the civil war, in regard to population. "After the war," he said, "the United States had a population of about 40,000,000. Now it ranges at about 100,000,000. It is increasing, therefore, since the war, by 60,000,000.

We Have Advantages
Now, Canada has the advantage. Not only have times and conditions changed considerably but while the United States had only European countries from which to draw its enormous population, Canada has today, besides these countries, also the United States.

Speaking of crop conditions, Mr. Hanna stated that he considered the crops along the G. T. P. from Watrous east the best he had ever seen. "In regard to railways," said Mr. Hanna, in switching to that topic, "I think you are well fixed for the present. The paramount need is people."

Asked about conditions in Ontario, Mr. Hanna stated that this year's crop in that province was the best without exception that he had ever seen. "It will be a bumper crop," he said, "and, as far as the markets are concerned," he said.

"The power policy of Sir James Whitney in Ontario is gaining favor, according to Mr. Hanna, and about fifteen municipalities are using hydro-electric energy. Hamilton, also, after a long dispute over the matter, has fallen in line.

Mr. Hanna is accompanied by Mrs. Hanna in his tour of the west, which is merely a pleasure one. Leaving here, Hon. and Mrs. Hanna will proceed to the coast.

Conservative Leader Describes Dominion Government As Spendthrifts and Profligates

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 13.—Mr. Borden, accompanied by Mr. Caruthers, and local candidates, addressed a good meeting in Sherbrooke, a small village in Guysborough county today. The Conservatives turned out in force and gave their leader a cordial welcome.

Mr. Borden devoted his speech wholly to the increased expenditure and increase in customs taxation, arguing that the total net reduction of tariff amounted to only one per cent and that owing to the increased price of commodities the customs duties were much heavier than in 1896. He said the trade policy of the government was to produce the greatest revenue and give the highest possible opportunity to manufacturing industries. He held that on account of the increased valuation placed on imported articles and the free importation of raw materials, the manufacturers of agricultural implements had a larger protection than they had before 1896.

He contrasted the expenditure today with expenditures under the Conservative administration and said the record of the past fourteen years has been that of spendthrifts and profligates. He cited the Quebec bridge and the Newmarket canal as samples of squandering public money. He said the Liberals in the last ten years had received $30,000,000 in excess of the amount the Conservatives received during their last ten years of power. "This excess revenue would have paid off the public debt and have left one hundred millions to meet the increasing necessities of the public service during the past ten years."

ANGLICAN SYNOD CLOSES SESSION

Several Very Important Pieces of Legislation Were Enacted During the Week

Prince Albert, August 13.—After two days arduous work the General Synod of Ruperts Land concluded his business yesterday afternoon and the delegates have since scattered over the huge area whence they came. The synod has been regarded by those participating in its deliberations as one of the most important ever held in this country on account of legislation which it enacted. It was decided to send strong delegation to Toronto to confer with the Missionary Society of the Church of Canada regarding grants to Indian schools. It is decided that the continued by the M.S.C.C. until such time as the government can arrange to increase its grants sufficiently to enable the church to dispend with aid from the society. At present the society is discontinuing its grants, throwing much heavy expense on the individual dioceses. Another item of business was a decision on a motion from Canon Murray and Dr. Smylie to start a strong evangelist's campaign in the west with a view to increasing interest in church work.

CAR CONDUCTOR KEPT THE CHANGE

And Now Young Lady's Mother Is Complaining to the Commissioners

SHE DIDN'T TAKE NUMBER

So It Will Be Rather Hard to Investigate the Trouble

Mrs. A. Hutchings has complained of the City Commissioners that her daughter after tendering a bill of small denomination to a conductor on the street railway in payment of fare was refused change. Mrs. Hutchings states that her daughter boarded a pay-as-you-enter car on Jasper avenue on Thursday, and having no smaller change with her gave the conductor the bill. As there was quite a crowd getting on the car at the time the conductor asked her to step inside, and he would give her the change after the crush had subsided.

The conductor never gave her the change, and when the young lady arrived at her destination she asked him for it, and was requested politely in reply to get off the car. In her confusion she neglected to take the number of the conductor, and for that reason it will be hard to investigate the matter.

TO ASK CITIZENS TO GIVE THE CASH

Appeal to Those Interested to Get Money for 40-Foot Bridge Over Great Ravine

Commissioner Bouillon stated this morning that the additional cost of erecting a 40-foot bridge over the Great Ravine, instead of a 20-foot span as was provided for would be only $10,000. The estimate on the 20-foot bridge was $4,000. $2,000 of which was to be subscribed by those directly interested in the construction of the bridge.

"It would be very poor policy," said Mr. Bouillon, "to erect a 20-foot bridge, which would be a disfigurement to the city and wholly inadequate, when a 40-foot structure could be constructed with such a small additional outlay. The 20-foot bridge would give a bad impression to prospective land buyers in that part."

It is proposed that contributions be asked from people interested in the construction of the bridge to make up the required $10,000, and it is desired that the amount be realized as soon as possible in order that the contract might be awarded and construction pushed ahead.

SILENT CALGARY GREETED PREMIER

Large Crowds Give Him Welcome at Station Yesterday Afternoon

WERE MANY ADDRESSES

Civic Speeches, Banquet and Many Other Functions Were Arranged

Calgary, Aug. 13.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived here yesterday at 1:30 p. m. and was warmly received by the large crowd that thronged the station precincts.

The reception, although devoid of any noisy demonstration of greeting was in, in point of respect and homage to the nation's first gentleman, could not be excelled.

The crowds rank in every word that the Premier uttered in reply to the civic address of welcome; and each and every one of the multitude present were thrilled with admiration of the dignified and unique figure of the prime minister as he stood on the raised platform, erected for the occasion.

Greeted by Immense Crowd
By the time the car pulled to a standstill the entire station platform and the space in front of the station on Ninth avenue right back to the buildings, and every spot from which a glimpse of the Premier could be had were packed with a swelling sea of humanity, decked in all the splendor of best dress and holiday attire.

A Hearty Reception

When the Premier appeared in the doorway of the car he was tendered a hearty cheer and a hearty ovation to the stage.

As he mounted the platform and lifted his hat to the throng, he was given another cheer. Premier Sifton, the Hon. Frank Oliver, and others of the Premier's party, and some of the aldermen followed. There was a moment's hesitation, and then Mayor Jamieson produced the handsomely illuminated address and read it to Sir Wilfrid, who listened intently until he had finished, then taking the document, opened it and looked at it.

The Premier's Reply
As he stepped forward to the front of the stage he rolled the address up, and, baring his head, bowed to the people, proceeding to tender his address in a clear, pleasant voice and with wonderful distinctness of articulation.

The Premier held the vast throng, especially in one of his wonderful flows of sweeping oratory, which have done so much to enable him to win his way to the uppermost rungs of the ladder of prominence, and with which he has from time to time swayed great assemblies and inspired his hearers with the wonderful confidence with which his speeches are replete. In the firm steady tone, the wonderful distinctness and exceeding placid delivery, there seemed to be a sincerity, a firmness of conviction which had a marked influence on his hearers.

When the Premier had finished he was tendered three cheers, and the party stepped down from the stage to mount the carriages which were waiting.

The Premier stepped into the first carriage, which was drawn by a tandem. He was followed by Premier Sifton, who seated himself in the rear seat with Sir Wilfrid. Then came the Hon. Frank Oliver, who sat directly opposite the Premier, and Mayor Jamieson, who occupied the other seat.

As the Premier's carriage drove off there was another round of cheering, and another carriage was brought forward into which stepped the Hon. Geo. P. Graham, E. M. McDonald and others.

MISSING JURYMAN AND NO WITNESSES DELAY INQUEST

CORONER FORIN SCORES POLICE FOR NOT HAVING WITNESSES READY FOR INQUEST INTO DEATH OF WALTER WATTS.

"Has anybody here seen Whiteley?" was the question yesterday when a missing juryman who did not turn up at the inquest on the body of Walter Watts in the undertaking parlors of Connelly & McKinley, thereby leaving his fellow jurors in a quandary. "I'm very sorry," said Dr. Forin, the coroner, "but I cannot dismiss you gentlemen until the sixth juryman is found."

Peculiar Circumstances
The circumstances were rather peculiar. If the jury had been dismissed a new jury would have to be sworn in, and the body having passed through the hands of the undertakers and not being in the same state as when it was found by the police it would be impossible to have a new jury on the case. On the other hand the old jury could not be dismissed until the sixth juror had turned up.

Dr. Forin, when he discovered the loss immediately had a mounted policeman sent in to search for the juror. They were allowed to have a recess until three o'clock.

No Witnesses Either
The mounted police had neglected to obtain any witnesses, although as the coroner said, this was particularly their duty, therefore in any case the inquest had to be adjourned as soon as the missing juryman had been found.

At three o'clock the jury returned to the parlors, but still there was no sight of the missing man, therefore the inquest was adjourned.

Met at Last
The jury met last night at 9 o'clock but was again postponed till Wednesday afternoon in order that W. Stirling, who was the first adult to see the body might be present to give evidence. Before adjourning, however, the evidence of George Howey, one of the boys who found the body, was taken.

A contractor, Daniel Sewell, living on the Stony Plain road, stated that he was the second man to see the body, and that in his opinion the deceased came to his death by shot gun wounds while in a sitting position.

HORSE IN MANHOLE, BIG COMMOTION

Some Said Tear Conduit to Pieces to Save Animal, Others Said the Opposite

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 13.—Slipping into a manhole that led to a conduit, a struggling horse today endangered the gas, electric light, and traction systems of the downtown section for more than an hour.

The conduit carried pipes and feed wires, and the ironed hoofs, thrashing about among them, tore the insulation and threatened to short circuit the wires or communicate the electric current to the pipes full of gas.

The accident happened in front of the city hall, where the horse slipped on the asphalt and knocked off the capstone of the manhole. Twenty men ran to the assistance of the driver, but despite their efforts the animal slid back inch by inch until it was beneath the street and resting on a bed of electric wires.

Alarms were sent to the fire and police departments, the electric light, gas, and traction headquarters, and as wagons and repair equipment raced to the place a crowd that blocked the thoroughfares for several squares gathered.

For an hour and a half the rescue forces were working at cross purposes. Some were for tearing the conduit to pieces to save the horse, others for tearing the horse to pieces to pieces to save the conduit. Finally a derrick was rigged over the manhole and the animal was hauled out.

SATURDAY, AUG. 13, 1910.

THE PEACE MOVEMENT

The cause of international peace is undoubtedly making headway. The Hague conferences have apparently produced little definite result up to date but they may be regarded as a prelude to a more important peace conference to be held in 1912. A proposal was recently brought before the United States Congress to appoint a commission of five members to consider the expediency of utilizing existing international agencies for the purpose of limiting the armaments of the nations of the world by international agreement, and of constituting the combined armies navies of the world an international force for the preservation of international peace, and to consider and report upon any other means to diminish the expenditures of government for military purposes and to lessen the probabilities of war.

If this bill, introduced by Mr. Bennett, becomes law, Mr. Taft has said he will appoint Theodore Roosevelt chairman of the commission and there can be no doubt that under his leadership much work will be done which will have an important effect on the next Hague conference in 1915. That the United States should be a leader in peace movements is natural and right. It is on this continent, where we are free from the entanglements that the centuries have produced, in the old world, that such problems cannot readily be solved. In discussing the Bennett bill, the New York Independent has this to say:

"The only two powers that ever have or ever can govern human beings are force and reason—war and law. If we do not have one we must have the other. The problem before the world is how to decrease the area of war and increase the area of law until war vanishes and law envelops the world. At the present moment the world is organized into fifty-nine nations claiming independence within their territories—nominally at least—organization, law and peace prevail. We have already learned to substitute law for war in cities and states and even up to the fifty-nine nations; but in that international realm over and above each nation in which each nation is equally sovereign, the only way at the present moment for a nation to secure its rights is by the use of force. Force, therefore, or war, it is called when exerted by a nation against another nation, is at present the only legal and final method of settling international differences. In other words the nations are in that stage of civilization today where without a quarrel they claim the right to settle their disputes in a manner they would put their own subjects to death for initiating. The peace movement, therefore, is nothing but the process of substituting law for war.

"How can we best create law in the international realm. Certainly not by the cumbersome methods of the present. Today there is no such thing as a code of international law which is binding on the nations. What passes under the name of international law, is simply a series of arguments, maxims, precedents and opinions. It is the work not of legislators, but of scholars. The nations are at perfect liberty to accept it or reject it as they wish. Before we can have a real international law we must have behind it some real conscious political organization to give it sanction and validity, and that implies a federation of the world."

Many friends will be glad to learn that Mr. H. W. McKenney, M.P., is recovering from a serious illness. Not the least of the pleasures of conversation with the member for Penhryn will enjoy will be that of reading his own obituary notice in the columns of an enterprising contemporary. The Capital has stored it away for future reference but trusts that it won't have any occasion to use it for thirty or forty years at least.

The W. C. T. U. of Minneapolis, and the Christian Endeavor Societies of Nebraska have passed strong resolutions calling on Mrs. Nicholas Longworth (nee Alice Roosevelt) to desist from the smoking of cigarettes. "Her father," declared one of the speakers, "has told the nation how to raise their families, how many children to have, and how to behave itself generally. It would seem from the cigarette escapades of his daughter, that he has not been particularly successful in rearing his own children."

Whether Alice really smokes cigarettes or whether she is merely one more victim of slanderous tongues, it is, of course, impossible at this distance to say. But if she is fairly open to criticism, it is rather rough on her father to blame him. Are all W. C. T. U. leaders willing to be held responsible for the conduct of their offspring? Business, Alice, please, from beneath the parental roof some years ago. She promised to obey Mr. Longworth. Haven't the ladies called on the wrong man to make his authority felt?

Edmonton people have been criticized over and over again because they do not know how to raise a cheer. Sir Wilfrid Laurier drove along streets lined with silent crowds. In Calgary the same complaint is made. Previous to the premier's visit the Alberta tried to rouse its readers to the need of making themselves heard and published this article:

"There is a tradition or a legend or a fiction of some kind that Calgary people cannot cheer. It must be admitted that they have lived up pretty well to the tradition, and many celebrated and illustrious persons have passed through the city, and the Calgary crowd has witnessed their coming and going with little more enthusiasm than an interested glance. This is surprising in a city such as this, composed for the most part of vigorous young men, who are optimists and enthusiasts."

"Theatrical people have made the same comment. Calgary people are afraid to show their vigorous expressions, to get beyond their waistcoats. It is all a habit. People do not cheer for fear that some person hears them. The majority of people are new here, and no person likes to start the enthusiasm going.

"Now, applause is like the quality of mercy, which blesses him who gives, and him who receives. It has a warming influence both on the applauder and upon the person who receives it. Wise, applause is the spirit of life to a public meeting. Without it the most brilliant expression, ideas and oratory are cold and disappointing."

In Edmonton there was a great difference between Sir Wilfrid's reception on the street and at the meeting in the Thistle rink. A person does not feel as conspicuous in raising applause when packed in a crowd inside a building. Shyness probably lies at the basis of our apparent lack of cordiality and the shy person is always misunderstood.

A NAVIGABLE SASKATCHEWAN

(Lethbridge Herald)
If the Saskatchewan river can be made navigable for commercial purposes for fifteen million dollars, it should be done as soon as possible. Every one knows that water carrying is a great deal cheaper than by rail, although necessarily much slower. With the grain growers of the West time is not the most important item in shipping their produce, the main thing being to reduce the cost of shipping to the markets of the world. It has always been considered that because of the fluctuation of the volume of water, the shifting of the river bed, and the rapidity of the flow of the river, it would be a very expensive undertaking to make the Saskatchewan navigable. Fifteen million dollars is the estimated cost. That is a large sum of money, no doubt. But if the expenditure of it will make the Saskatchewan a practical navigable river, it will be money well spent. The government, while investigating the possibility of making the North Saskatchewan river navigable, should turn their attention to the South Saskatchewan. If the north branch can be made navigable as far up as Edmonton, there is no apparent reason why the south branch could not be made navigable up beyond Medicine Hat, at least to the junction of the Bow and Belly rivers.

Why Associated Charities and Children's Aids Should Co-Operate
What is the Children's Aid Society of Alberta?

The official organization through which the province takes charge of its "Neglected Children," which term is advisedly used by the Department to cover dependent and delinquent children, their conditions invariably arising from neglect of some description.

And what is the modus operandi? Well, in the first place, there is an agent whose business it is to investigate any and every case wherein a child is neglected, abused or appears as a delinquent. He is painstaking in making his chain of facts and observations complete. He is or should be quick to grasp a situation, for in many instances a notification or warning suffices to rally the home forces into normal action. In criminal negligence or abuse the child is usually made the ward of the department. Delinquent children and first offenders are generally turned over to a probation officer, unless the gravity

Every six months the child and also the foster parents report to the Department, while a travelling Matron visits and reports on the home conditions surrounding the adopted child.

Are children ever returned or left on your hands?
The experience of this department has enabled it to place the right child in the right home at first instance in 97 cases out of one hundred.

And who takes care of the neglected children as they are gathered in by the Society?

A Matron—and anyone who imagines her office to be a sinecure is welcome to give her a week's parole. We are confident the week would end in less than forty-eight hours. But as a matter of fact our Matrons are specially endowed and qualified women who would be happy in no other occupation than supervising and engaging in the actual labor connected with the care of a children's home.

How long may a child remain in the Shelter?
For three months only, at or previous to the expiration of which time it is usually adopted into a foster home.

Is the foster parent required to keep a child if it proves unsatisfactory?
No. Thirty days is given for mutual decision, but should the department have reason to believe that any child is not getting a square deal, the Superintendent of Neglected children removes it at his discretion.

Then the children's shelters are restricted to the care of dependent and neglected children coming under the jurisdiction of "The Children's Protection Act of Alberta."

An occasional delinquent who is held over awaiting decision or pending commitment to the Industrial School is included among the children cared for by the shelter. A woman who works out may "creche" her children for the day at a nominal fee, and parents in unfortunate circumstances may board their children in the institution.

Do you ever see or hear of the adopted children again?

whom they are dealing are frequently the parents of these neglected and abused children. The one investigation (in such cases) should cover the ground of both societies.

With a properly trained man as agent, there is no reason in the world why he should not be able to accomplish the objects of both organizations with increased efficiency and despatch. Not only would the salary of one man be economized but a great deal of money would be saved for the municipality in the cost of investigating cases and bringing them to a successful issue.

The work is inevitable one of normal opportunity and its resultant prevention. The saving of every child from a life of crime or residence in a penitentiary is a direct saving of thousands of dollars to the province.

Since the launching of the Children's Aid Society along its present lines, it is to the direct advantage of the Children's Aid Society, the Associated Charities and the entire community to carry on the work under one organization, and this not on account of economic reasons alone.

Does the work of these two organizations overlap?
The work of the Children's Aid Society of a necessity is constantly crossing the trail of the Associated Charities as the individuals with

This is a matter of import to all benevolent persons as such an arrangement would combine the strength of union with enlarged possibilities for philanthropic work in both Associated Charities and Children's Aid Societies through the co-operation of these organizations.

ESKIMOS AND MINERS IN TIE

Game Was Called in Ninth With Score 1-1. Hickey and Pich Had Pitcher's Battle

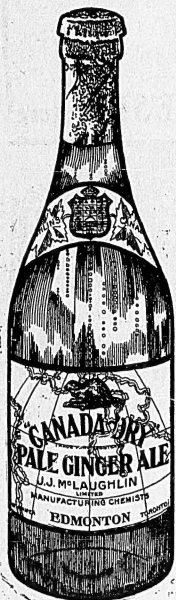

The game last night between Edmonton and Lethbridge resolved itself into a pitchers' battle and was called at the end of the ninth with the score a tie, 1-1.

Hickey was hit rather hard in the early innings and extracted himself from a number of tight corners. He improved steadily as the game progressed, and toward the end had the visitors in the hollow of his hand. Jack fanned nine and gave nary a base on balls. Lethbridge's elongated Cy Pich was also pitching some on his own account, and was found for only three hits, one of which was decidedly scarce. Pich was a trifle wild and issued six passes.

Johnny McKinn had a collision with Chevy and the Lethbridge captain had to be assisted off the field. Dudley going to second and our former player, Ward, taking Duds' place in right. As is always the case with cast-offs, Ward pulled down a sure-looking two-bagger of Morse's and robbed us of the game.

Roxy Walters made his first appearance in an Edmonton suit and held down third to the King's taste, while Morse was also in evidence in the field and on the bases.

Almighty Yankee Wheeler handed the game well thought out. The Miners thought differently and drew fines for their contrivances.

Details of Play

Oriet tripped in the first with one down, but died on third. Morse got to second in Edmonton's half and remained there.

In the second Lyrich singled and was sacrificed to second. Ohayars had bonnder to Morse put Hickey in a hole, as Ohayars stole second. Jack worked himself out by fanning Corrigan while Pich grounded, Morse to Baxter.

Even though Stub doubled in the second, nothing happened.

Miners Got One

After Macklin had been retired in the third, Oriet singled to centre, stole second and then Jim was hit by a pitched ball. A double steal then perpetrated and Oriet scored on Chevy's sacrifice fly to left.

Eskimos went out in 1-2-3 order. Dudley started the fourth with a triple, but nothing further happened as Ohayars, Corrigan and Pich were easy victims.

Eskimos Tie Score

Macklin was unable to handle Morse's hard chance. Pete and Lussi pulled off a bit and run, the former reaching second while Bill died at the initial cast. Chesty fled to centre and Stub was intentionally passed. This charity proved Pich's undoing as a delayed steal was at once instituted. Pete crossed the plate and Lussi, after being chased nearly five miles, slid back into first and was called safe. A small-sized gabfest followed and the Miners were handed a couple of fines by Umpire Wheeler.

From now until the end of the game the pitchers had to on the batters and though an occasional member of both team got to second, third base looked a mile away and the going slow.

Shades of night began falling about eight o'clock so the game was called and will have to be replayed when Lethbridge makes its next appearance here.

CALLIES A. ARE CITY CHAMPS

Had a Hard Tussle Last Evening But Won By 3-2 Total on Round 6-2

By defeating their Scottish brethren by a score of 3 to 2 last night, Callies "A" won the association football championship of the city. The game was the second of the series, a game having been played on Wednesday, the Callies "A" winning that contest by 3 to 0. Last night's game was hard fought, and although Callies "B" went on the field three goals to the bad, they were no means discouraged and made a gallant attempt to win the game, and wipe out the lead of the "A's." The playing conditions last night were ideal, it being very calm, while an overcast sky prevented Old Sol from taking a hand in the game. There was a very small crowd of spectators, and the result, having been reduced to a minimum in view of the fact that the teams which were battling for the championship represented the same club. Moreover, it looked like a sure thing for Callies "A" on account of that team's superiority in Wednesday's game.

In point of aggressive playing, fast following up and superior brain work, last night's game can stand out as one of the best played this season. The losing aggression never thought of defeat and from the start of play, contested the game every inch of the way and in the first half, although at half time the score stood with one tally for each team, the Callies "B" really had the better of the argument, and if their kicks for goal had been a little more accurately placed, it might have been necessary to use an adding machine to calculate the score. As a matter of fact, both teams showed a weakness in kicking for goal. In most cases, the sphere travelled above the cross-bar.

Good combination has been conspicuous by its absence this season, but last night's exhibition was an exception. Both teams showed up surprisingly in that regard, and resulted in numerous well-timed and pretty rushes.

Callies "B" jumped into the game at the start and after six minutes of play, notched a very pretty goal, Allan being responsible. During the greater part of the first half the Callies "B" bombarded the champions' goal with a tenacity that at the time lines of prophecy around the side lines that they would win out. Toward the end, however, Callies "A" woke up, and shortly before the whistle planted a beautiful one behind Oriet. The latter goal was really sensational. Securing the ball from a mix-up in Callies' territory, Finley started down the field, with nobody ahead of him but the opposing goal tend, while behind him, came three or four of the "B's" in marathon array. As he drew near the goal Oriet crouched to block the ball, and in fact he did so, but to no stop, but on the rebound it landed in an ideal spot and Finley booted it in. The goal scored by Allan, had an element of flakiness about it. After bounding about on a half dozen heads, it finally landed on the cocoon of Mr. Allan, at a proper angle, and bounced through, with but a millimetre to save it from striking the cross-bar.

In the second half, the odds were in favor of Callies "A" and they managed to place two behind Oriet, while the losers had to be content with one. The honors, as far as playing was concerned were about even. Fate favored Callies "A" and they were lucky to win.

J. G. Armour of the Hibernians handled the whistle to the satisfaction of everybody.

BURT-MAXWELL BOUT A DRAW

Was the Fastest Glove Contest Ever Seen in These Parts. Both Boys Very Clever

There have been many fights in this vicinity, but the Burt-Maxwell bout at Strathcona last evening had them all beaten.

The three hundred spectators witnessed 12 rounds of as clever fighting as one would wish to see and when Referee Page Fisher at the end of the fight held both men's arms in the air, signifying a draw, there was not a dissenting voice heard. Both fighters showed skill, had a punch in each mitt and displayed clever footwork. The outstanding feature of both boys' work was their gameness, and they took some exceptionally hard punishment with a smile.

Burt added to his good reputation with the shouts while Young Maxwell also earned a seat right beside the open fireplace. There is no doubt but that these boys will meet again and they are assured of a bumper house when they do so.

Crowd Was Orderly

The whole affair was exceptionally well managed and the crowd very orderly. One young gentleman had the temerity to raise his voice about a whisper when speaking to a friend across the ring and an officious young constable was on the point of putting him out. However, some onlookers remonstrated with the youthful blue-coat and he very kindly refrained from getting himself in very bad.

There were four preliminaries all referred by Billy Tipton of Strathcona.

Devine of Seona went six rounds with Kid Johnson (colored) and got a decision though he was a prize fighter. He had had a draw, as Johnson came very strong in the last round. The Horvey youngsters made a bit with the crowd in a four-round bout. George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, two gentlemen of color, boxed three rounds, and though neither showed a very extensive knowledge of the manly art, they got by with a draw.

Kid McCarthy of Strathcona and Myrand Bart of Minneapolis went three clinching rounds and made a big hit with the crowd. Bart was much heavier than his opponent, but the Kid stuck right to him.

Myrand Bart is a middleweight boxer, open to meet anybody his weight in Canada, and also a handy young gentleman with his dukes.

The Star Bout

About 10:40 the principals, Budd Bart of Minneapolis and Young Maxwell, went to the prize fight. Both were well received. Page Fisher was the third man in the ring, while Joe Clarke reclined in an armchair and operated the gong.

Round 1—Burt started early after his man and all the early leading. Fighters fell into numerous clinches. Max landed two left jabs to the jaw which didn't worry Bud. Burt got in a couple of close range hits towards the end of the round, but got one on the nose which started the claret running.

Round 2—This was a vicious round. Burt landed some wicked lefts while Max played for his opponent's face, with the result that Bud was bleeding badly at call of time. Honors were easy.

Many Hard Blows

Round 3—The fighters came up smiling and salled in with a will. Neither had anything on the other in this round, though both landed some stiff punches with left and right. There is plenty of steam behind the blows and the spectators are in high place.

Round 4—This was Burt's round. He entered with two rights to the jaw in quick succession and the smile disappeared momentarily from Maxwell's face. Burt then followed up his advantage with an uppercut to the body which evidently hurt. Maxwell lost going just before the bell and showed some clever sparring.

Round 5—This was marked by clever footwork on the part of both scrappers. Maxwell especially so. Burt is landing straight lefts to the face while Max seems to favor body blows. Round 6 is a succession of counters and the best so far.

Clever Feinting

Round 6—Just about the same as its predecessor. They started cautious and Burt had the lower end of the face, Max ducked several on body meant punches and then sailed in and rocked Bud's head with a stiff right to the jaw.

Round 7—This was Maxwell's round. Burt started in strong at the beginning, but Maxwell landed telling blows with both hands. A couple of short arm jabs worried Burt and he was warned for not breaking clean.

Maxwell a Horse

Round 8—Anybody's round. Much sparring and quick footwork. Maxwell shows he is a horse for punishment as Burt's stiff punches seem to worry him very little.

Round 9—Blood starts from Maxwell's nose, brought by a glancing blow. Both men are looking for a chance to land a haymaker and some clever blocking results. Burt seems to be getting stronger and more confident, but Maxwell landed two on Burt's jaw before the gong sounded.

Round 10—This was Burt's round and he marked up his opponent's face badly with an avalanche of blows. He landed repeatedly on nose and over Max's heart, but the Calgary boy is strong and is trying to rush matters when time is called.

Stand Up and Take

Round 11—Maxwell came back in this round and the punishment both men received was fierce. It was one succession of punches with very few clinches. Just a case of "stand up, give and take."

Round 12—Maxwell is aggressor at start and rushes his opponent, but only for a minute. Bud sails in and lands three stiff ones. Shifty work enables Max to evade a couple of those dreamed variety of blows.

Round 13—This is an unlucky round said Maxwell, but there was nothing doing in the finish line. A right to the jaw slowed Max up momentarily, but he came back with a succession of stiff ones that showed he had a bunch of fight still left in him.

Round 14—This was the only tame round of the contest. Both were eagerly looking for an opening and the consequence was the round was just a succession of clinches. Max was bleeding badly, but could always scrape up a smile.

Decision a Draw

Round 15—Burt and Maxwell made desperate efforts to land a finisher and chased Maxwell over the ring. In doing so he left several openings and Max took great pleasure in slipping in a couple of sneaky ones. When the bell sounded both boys were strong and willing. The decision was a draw and was well received.

ATELL AND MARINO

SASKATOON BEAT CALGARY.

Saskatoon, Aug. 12.—Calgary went down to defeat to-day before the Berry Pickers in one of the best games of the season, and then only in the last innings, when, with three men on bases, Whisman smashed the ball for a home run, scoring the winning run. The Pickers scored in the first and were blanked until this game, when, with the score three all, Whisman batted for Miller and made the longest drive of the season.

SOME CHOICE ACRES CLOSE TO G.T.P. Lots less than price of single lots. WILLY TRADE LOTS IN NORWOOD, clear title and some cash as first payment on modern house in West End.

MODERN LIFE WOULD BE TOO HARD ON THE NERVES IF IT WERE NOT FOR WANT ADVERTISING!

The pace of life has become tense.

Worries, disappointments, up-sets at home and office, losses, discouragements seem to multiply as daily life becomes more complex.

The property owner, who MUST have a steady income from rents or lose his property, is "racked" by the untimely defection of a tenant. Some classified advertising quickly retrieves his loss—and quiets his nerves!

The salary earner unexpectedly loses his position—and his peace of mind. The strain would shortly "break" something in his nervous system if, once more, want advertising did not find the better job—and restore to him his mental equilibrium.

In every phase of the city's life, every day, the want ads play the part of the peace-maker. They SERVE you and me at some crisis in our lives—and keep the modern pace and tension from proving too fast and tight for us.

Truly, the want ads ARE FOR SERVICE!

In or Out

THE difference between our cleaning and that of other cleaners is that we take the dirt out of the woods while the others rub it in and then smooth it over with a flat iron. Every garment we take in for dry cleaning, scouring or dyeing is thoroughly cleaned, steamed, sterilized and pressed on the most modern sanitary pressing machine invented.
